2005 Schiopetto, Pinot Bianco, Friuli

Northern Italy is full of great, crisp white wines, but it is a real treat to come across a wine as rich as Schiopetto's Pinot Bianco. With intense floral notes and hints of cherries, apricots and apples, it is elegant and silky on the palate due to aging on lees.

2007 Abeja, Columbia Valley, Chardonnay

With notes of fresh apricots, wood spice and great minerality, this chardonnay has bold flavors and still has Burgundian attributes. By using traditional techniques including aging on the lees, you get a rich, but not overpowering wine that will compliment a great many dishes.

2004 Librandi Gravello, Calabria

A blend of 60% Gaglioppo and 40% Cabernet Sauvignon, Librandi's Gravello hails from Calabria, the "toes" in the Italian "boot." Being so far south, this wine is extremely ripe with notes of dark cherries and tobacco.
